

WILSON READS HIS MESSAGE

SAYS TO CONGRESS WE MUST ABOLISH EVERYTHING THAT BEARS SEMBLANCE OF PRIVILEGE.

DUTY LAID UPON THE PARTY

Advocates Putting Our Business Men and Producers Under the Stimulus of Constant Necessity of Being Efficient, Economical and Enterprising.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Washington.—The following is President Wilson's message, read by him personally in congress:

"I have called the congress together in extraordinary session because a duty was laid upon the party now in power at the recent elections which it ought to perform promptly, in order that the burden carried by the people under existing law may be lightened as soon as possible and in order, also, that the business interests of the country may not be kept too long in suspense as to what the fiscal changes are to be to which they will be required to adjust themselves.

WOODROW WILSON.

It is clear to the whole country that tariff duties must be altered. They must be changed to meet the radical variation in the conditions of our economic life which the country has witnessed within the last generation. While the whole face and method of our industrial and commercial life were being changed beyond recognition the tariff schedules have remained what they were before the change began, or have moved in the direction they were given when no large circumstance of our industrial development was what it is today.

Fix the Tariff and Business Will Thrive.

"Our task is to square them with the actual facts. The sooner that is done the sooner we shall escape from suffering from the facts and the sooner our men of business will be free to

WOMAN'S ILLS DISAPPEARED

Like Magic after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

North Bangor, N. Y.—"As I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with great benefit I feel it my duty to write and tell you about it. I was ailing from female weakness and had headache and backache nearly all the time. I was later every month than I should have been and so sick that I had to go to bed.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me well and these troubles have disappeared like magic. I have recommended the Compound to many women who have used it successfully."—Mrs. JAMES J. STACY, R.F.D. No. 3, North Bangor, N. Y.

Another Made Well.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done wonders for me. For years I suffered terribly with hemorrhages and had pains so intense that sometimes I would faint away. I had female weakness so bad that I had to doctor all the time and never found relief until I took your remedies to please my husband. I recommend your wonderful medicine to all sufferers as I think it is a blessing for all women."—Mrs. L. E. WYCKOFF, 112 S. Ashley St., Ann Arbor, Mich.

There need be no doubt about the ability of this grand old remedy, made from the roots and herbs of our fields, to remedy women's diseases. We possess voluminous proof of this fact, enough to convince the most skeptical. Why don't you try it?

thrive by the law of nature (the nature of free business) instead of by the law of legislation and artificial arrangement.

"We have seen tariff legislation wander very far afield in our day—very far indeed from the field in which our prosperity might have had a normal growth and stimulation. No one who looks the facts squarely in the face or knows anything that lies beneath the surface of action can fail to perceive the principles upon which recent tariff legislation has been based.

"We long ago passed beyond the modest notion of 'protecting' the industries of the country and moved boldly forward to the idea that they were entitled to the direct patronage of the government. For a long time—a time so long that the men now active in public policy hardly remember the conditions that preceded it—we have sought in our tariff schedules to give each group of manufacturers or producers what they themselves thought that they needed in order to maintain a practically exclusive market as against the rest of the world.

Privilege Must Give Way to Free Business.

"Consciously or unconsciously, we have built up a set of privileges and exemptions from competition behind which it was easy by any, even the crudest, forms of combination to organize monopoly; until at last nothing is normal, nothing is obliged to stand the tests of efficiency and economy, in our world of big business, but everything thrives by concerted arrangement. Only new principles of action will save us from a final hard crystallization of monopoly and a complete loss of the influences that quicken enterprise and keep independent energy alive.

"It is plain what those principles must be. We must abolish everything that bears even the semblance of privilege or of any kind of artificial advantage, and put our business men and producers under the stimulation of a constant necessity to be efficient, economical and enterprising masters of competitive supremacy, better workers and merchants than any in the world.

"Aside from the duties laid upon articles which we do not, and probably can not, produce, and the duties laid upon luxuries, and merely for the sake of the revenues they yield, the object of the tariff duties henceforth laid must be effective competition, the whetting of American wits by contest with the wits of the rest of the world.

"It would be unwise to move toward this end headlong, with reckless haste, or with strokes that cut at the very roots of what has grown up amongst us by long process and at our own invitation. It does not alter a thing to upset it and break it and deprive it of a chance to change. It destroys it.

Must Have Change, But Not Revolution.

"We must make changes in our fiscal laws, in our fiscal system, whose object is development, a more free and wholesome development, not revolution or upset or confusion. We must build up trade, especially foreign trade. We need the outlet and the enlarged field of energy more than we ever did before.

"We must build up industry as well, and must adopt freedom in the place of artificial stimulation only so far as it will build, not pull down.

"In dealing with the tariff the method by which this may be done will be a matter of judgment, exercised item by item. To some not accustomed to the excitement and responsibilities of greater freedom our methods may seem heroic, but remedies may be heroic, and yet be remedies. It is our business to make sure that they are genuine remedies.

"Our object is clear. If our motive is above just challenge and only an occasional error of judgment is chargeable against us, we shall be fortunate.

"We are called upon to render the country a great service in more matters than one. Our responsibility should be met and our methods should be thorough, as thorough as moderate and well considered, based upon the facts as they are, and not worked out as if we were beginners.

We Are to Deal With Facts of Our Own Day.

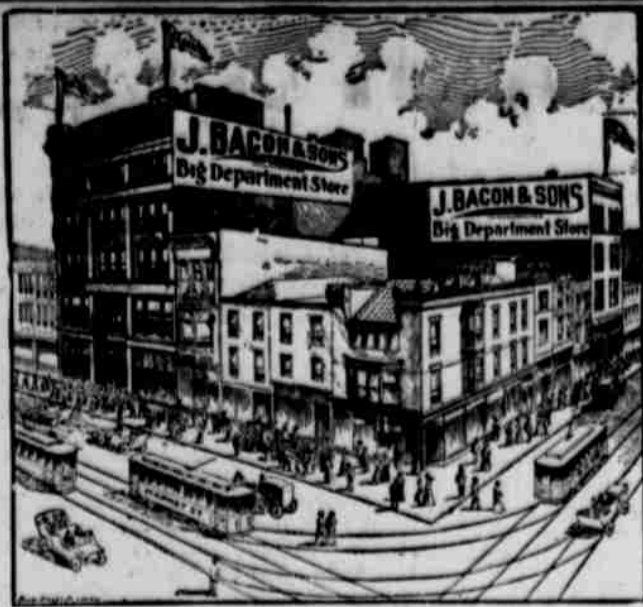

"We are to deal with the facts of our own day, with the facts of no other, and to make laws which square with those facts. It is best, indeed it is necessary, to begin with the tariff. I will urge nothing upon you now at the opening of your session which can obscure that first object or divert our energies from that clearly defined duty.

"At a later time I may take the liberty of calling your attention to reforms which should press close upon the heels of the tariff changes, if not accompany them, of which the chief is the reform of our banking and currency laws; but just now I refrain.

"For the present, I put these matters on one side and think only of this one thing—of the changes in our fiscal system which may serve to open once more the free channels of prosperity to a great people whom we would serve to the utmost and throughout both rank and file."

FINE WAY TO SAVE.

Each farmer should write to the state experiment station and secure the proper fertilizer formula for whatever crop he desires to grow and mix his plant food indoors on rainy days at a great saving to his pocketbook and soil conservation means saving, preserving, and every dollar which the farmer pays out for the middlemen's profits for wages and for freight must eventually come out of the soil.

RED CROSS GIVES $25,000

To Hamilton After Cincinnati Officials Telegraph Urgent Appeal.

Hamilton, O.—In response to a telegram from Dr. Otto P. Geier, superintendent of Charities and Corrections, Mabel Boardman, chairman of the board of directors of the National Red Cross Society at Washington, D. C., made $25,000 available immediately for restoration work at Hamilton.

Dr. Geier was one of a party, consisting of Mayor Hunt, City Engineer Walte, and Maj. Jones, of the United States Engineers, that visited Hamilton to see what was being done towards restoring the homes of flood victims.

They found, they said, that practically nothing had been accomplished in this direction because of a lack of funds, and conditions generally were in a deplorable state. The mayor offered to raise a considerable amount of money as a loan, so that quick action could be taken to aid the citizens of the stricken town in rehabilitating their homes.

Bite or Sting.
"Keep away from that," said a waiter at an uptown restaurant to a man who was standing in front of a newly arrived case of turtles and who was sucking his finger as if in pain. "What are you doing, anyhow?" "Well," said the man, "I was trying to find out which was the head and which was the tail of that beast over there in the corner, and perhaps you can tell me, for I'd like to know whether I've been bitten or stung."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Parcel Post Gives You Access to this Store, Its Facilities, Its Assortments and Its Low Prices the Same As If You Lived In Our City

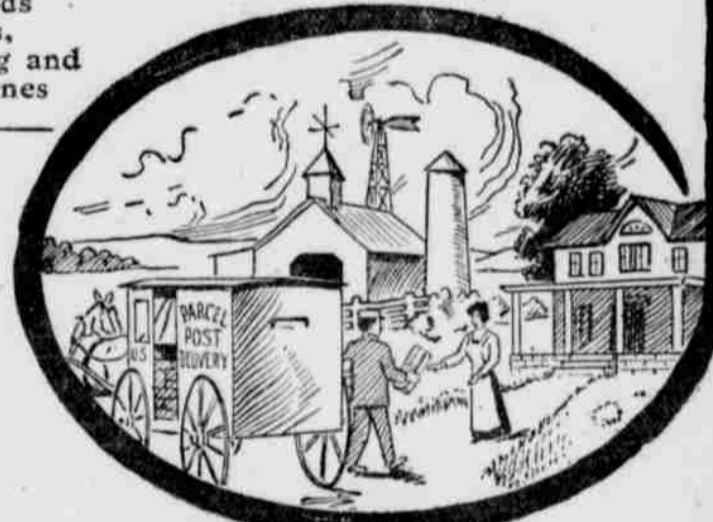

There was a time, and not so very long ago, when people living in our city had an edge on persons living away from our town, as regards taking advantage of our sales, our service, our assortments and our low prices. That time is now past, however, since the Parcel Post is in operation.

It is highly important that you should know that we are affiliated with the largest retail buying organization in the whole civilized world. This fact, coupled with our ability to pay cash for whatever we buy, gives us a leverage among the manufacturers and jobbers that never fails to secure for us the lowest prices in everything. And, as we have a fixed store policy to sell as we buy, it is not very infrequent that we sell goods cheaper than a great many merchants (especially the smaller ones) can buy them. There are sixty-three departments in our store. Each one is under the supervision of a trained manager who conducts his or her departments with the same businesslike, systematic care as if the department or departments were their own. This insures you not only of honest, reliable merchandise, but also of prompt and efficient service whether your wants be known either by person or by mail.
